What do I need?

An iOS device and Apple ID account

Apple's Family Sharing

Getting started Firstly, you will need two things: An Apple ID signed in to iCloud and an iPhone, iPad, or iPod touch with iOS 8 or later, or Mac with OS X Yosemite or later. If you need to, you can create an Apple ID for your child, then add them to your family group. If your child already has an Apple ID, you can add it to your family group and update their email address, date of birth, security questions, and more. If your child is under 13, go to step 6.

Apple's Family Sharing

An adult in the family can set up Family Sharing from their Apple device. Go to Settings > [your name]. If you're using iOS 10.2 or earlier, go to Settings > iCloud.

Apple's Family Sharing

- Tap 'Set Up Family Sharing', then tap 'Get Started'. Follow the on-screen instructions to set up your family and invite your family members. If you're using iOS 10.2 or earlier, go to Settings > iCloud. Tap 'Get Up Family Sharing', then tap 'Get Started'.

Apple's Family Sharing

Invite people to join your family You can add anyone who has an Apple ID to your family as long as you both use iOS 8 and later or OS X Yosemite and later. Go to Settings > [your name] > Family Sharing. If you're using iOS 10.2 or earlier, go to Settings > iCloud > Family. Tap 'Add Family Member'. Enter your family member's name or email address and follow the onscreen instructions. Once your family member receives your invitation, they can either accept or decline it.

Apple's Family Sharing

Creating an Apple ID for a child under 13 To participate in Family Sharing, all family members must have their own Apple ID. Children under 13 can't create an Apple ID on their own. However, the family organizer can provide verified parental consent and create an Apple ID on the child's behalf in their family group.

Apple's Family Sharing

Check your payment method Before you begin, make sure that you're using a supported payment method. You can check your payment method from your Apple ID account page, where you can manage and change your payment method from your device. To comply with child online privacy protection laws, you use the CVV, verification code sent via SMS, or security code from your payment method as part of providing your verified parental consent
